ROOK

Heroic Cairn 2nd Edition

Rook consolidates and updates Cairn with rules for ancestries, classes with additional rules and spells. It's goal is to fold a little 5E back in to Cairn.

The main changes from Cairn are: a) If multiple attackers target the same foe, they each get to attack. b) Actions are declared and resolved as you go around the table. c) Advantage and disadvantage have also been added so Class abilities have something to do.

Rook is created by Senator Bix and is licensed CC-BY-SA.

CHARACTER CREATION

1. Select an Ancestry.
2. Select Background and Traits.
3. Find your Ability Scores and HP.
4. Select your Class Feats.
5. Select your gear or gear package.

ANCESTRY

Choose an ancestry for your character:

Dwellers of the Underground

- Darkvision: Perfect vision in low-light, somewhat blinded by bright lights.
- Earthhardy: You are tougher than sun-dwellers, often recovering from injuries or poison thought to be lethal.

Fair Folk

- Magic-Sense: You can tell when arcane energies are at work.
- Third Eye: You cannot be fooled by magical illusions, save those created by one of your own.

Smallfolk

- Easily Missed: Enemies tend to ignore you, going for the bigger targets first or ignoring you altogether.
- Quicksilver: Escaping sudden capture or a killing blow is like second nature to you. Sneaking comes naturally, too.

Greenskin

- Blood Brothers: If any fellow adventurers go first in battle, then you also go first.

• Battle Fury: Once per encounter you may perform an Enhanced blast attack.

Humankind

- Eclectic: Humans are many and varied. Select an additional background.
- Aggressive Opportunist: Once per encounter, you can re-roll a damage roll.

Or make your own Ancestry:

Choose any two features from the above. For example, a goblin character might choose to have Quicksilver and Blood Brothers. Or, a gnome might have Easily Missed and Third Eye. A human might have inherited Magic-Sense from their witch grandmother.

General Principles

Ability Scores: 3 is deficient, 6 is weak, 10 is average, 14 is noteworthy, and 18 is legendary. Adjust as necessary.

- Give average creatures 3 HP, give hardy ones 6 HP, and serious threats get 10+ HP.
- Use flavor and style to help them stand out. Players will remember a pig-faced humanoid looking for his missing sheep more easily than a generic goblin archer.
- Use critical damage to lean into the threat or strangeness of any aggressive NPC.
- Remember that HP is Hit Protection, not Hit Points. It's a measure of resilience, luck, and gumption - not health.

Converting Monsters from OSR Games

- Give 1 HP per HD for most creatures.

- Most humanoids have at least 4HP.

Some pointers:

- Is it good at avoiding a hit? Give it HP.
- Does it soak up damage? Give it Armor.
- Is it strong? Give it a high STR.
- Is it nimble? Give it high DEX.
- Is it charismatic? Give it high WIL.

Damage die are roughly the same, though armed attacks do at least 1d6 damage.

Converting Monsters from 5E

First choose the attributes you're converting.

- For STR, choose the highest between STR or CON.
- Convert DEX directly.
- For WIL choose the highest between WIS or CHA.

Now to get the value, add 10 to the equivalent 5e modifier. So, a monster that has 19(+4) STR on 5e, will have 14 STR on Cairn. One that has 6(-2) Wisdom in 5e will have 8 WIL on Cairn. AC to Armor

- 12 AC or less = no armor
- 13+ AC = 1 Armor
- 16+ AC = 2 Armor
- 20+ AC = 3 Armor

For HP you can use CR as a starting point; but consider the "levels of threat".

- 1-6 HP are most humans, small animals and creatures of similar power.
- 7-12 HP are serious foes, people that are exceptionally trained or creatures of uncommon power. Large and ferocious animals, most monstrosities and extraplanar creatures fall here.
- 13-18 HP are large threats. Dragons, Giants, that sort of enemy that can cause massive destruction.

Attacks/damage are mostly as is, in the case of weapons, use the damage the weapon deals in Cairn rules. If a attack has a lot of damage dice, give it advantage (e.g. d8+d8) in Cairn. Use damage advantage in place of multiattacks too.

Tyrannosaurus: 18 HP, 1 Armor, 18 STR, 12 DEX, bite (d10+d10), detachment. Massive, two-legged, predatory reptiles with huge jaws.. Extremely rare, can only be found in large regions of untouched wilderness. Only hunt large and dangerous prey, always attacking the most threatening foe first.

Vampire: 12 HP, 1 Armor, 14 STR, 12 DEX, 16 WIL, bite (d10). Charming, undead creatures that drink the blood of mortals. Act at night and sleep in a coffin during the day. Can change its form to the one of a bat. Regeneration: A damaged vampire regains 6 HP when it bites a target that has blood. If killed, it becomes a cloud of gas and retreats to its coffin, reforming at the next nightfall. Can only be killed if exposed to sunlight or if the coffin is destroyed. Critical Damage: The vampire drains the targets's essence, dealing d12 damage to WIL. If the target reaches 0 WIL this way, it dies and is raised as a thrall of the vampire.

Werewolf: 8 HP, 15 STR, 14 DEX, 6 WIL, claws (d6+d6) or bite

(d8). Ferocious humanoid and wolf hybrids that hunt with abandon. Created by a curse being placed in a human or a wolf. Its piercing howls can be heard for miles away, and are capable of calling regular wolves to its aid. Mundane attacks are Impaired against the werewolf, but weapons made of silver are Enhanced. Critical Damage: The target becomes infected, transforming into a werewolf by the next full moon.

Wolf: 6 HP, 12 STR, 14 DEX, bite (d8). Large canines that dwell primarily in wildlands, but occasionally lair in caves. Can be trained like dogs if captured young. Hunt in packs.

Wolf, Dire: 8 HP, 14 STR, 12 DEX, bite (d10). Horse-sized, semi-intelligent wolves. Highly territorial, live in forests or mountains and ferociously guard its surroundings. Regular wolves are scared of them, but will fight alongside them against invaders. Can be trained like dogs if captured young, but it's a extremely difficult challenging.

Wyvern: 7 HP, 14 DEX, bite (d8+d8) or poisonous sting (d6). Winged, two-legged, reptilian monsters with a long tail tipped with a venomous sting. Dwell in any terrain, but favor dry cliffs. Shy away from other creatures, but attacks anything that comes in the vicinity of its nest.. Critical Damage: The deadly poison permanently debilitates the target, reducing its maximum STR to the current value.

Zombie: 6 HP, 6 DEX, 3 WIL, rusted weapon (d6). Slow, mindless re-animated corpses. Created by wicked wizards to serve as guardians in hordes. Simply attacks anything that comes nearby. Cannot be affected by anything that targets the mind.

CORE RULES

PLAYER CHARACTERS

Attributes

Player Characters (PCs) have three Attributes:

- Strength (STR): Used for saves requiring physical power, like lifting gates, bending bars, resisting poison, etc.
- Dexterity (DEX): Used for saves requiring poise, speed, reflexes, dodging, climbing, sneaking, balancing, etc.
- Willpower (WIL): Used for saves to persuade, deceive, interrogate, intimidate, charm, provoke, manipulate spells, etc.

Attributes are not universal descriptors. A character with a low STR is not necessarily hopelessly weak; they can still attempt to lift a heavy door or survive a deadly fight! Their risk is simply higher.

Attribute Loss

If a PC takes damage outside of combat, they should instead receive damage to an Attribute, typically STR.

If a PC's STR is reduced to 0, they die. If their DEX is reduced to 0, they are paralyzed. If their WIL is reduced to 0, they are delirious. Complete DEX and WIL loss renders the character unable to act until they are restored through extended rest or by extraordinary means.

Hit Protection

Hit Protection (HP) reflects a character's ability to avoid damage in combat.

This measurement does not indicate a character's health or fortitude, nor do they lose it for very long.

Healing & Recovery

Resting for a few moments and having a drink of water restores lost HP but may leave the party exposed. Bandages can stabilize a character that has taken critical damage.

Attribute loss (see Critical Damage) can usually be restored with a week's rest, facilitated by a healer or other appropriate source of expertise.

Some healing services are free, while magical or more expedient means of recovery may come at a cost.

Armor

Before calculating damage to HP, subtract the target's Armor value from the result of damage rolls.

Shields and similar armor provide a bonus defense (e.g. +1 Armor), but only while the item is held or worn. Some may also provide additional benefits, depending on the fiction.

A PC, NPC, or monster cannot have more than 3 Armor.

Inventory

Characters have a total of ten inventory slots but can only carry four or five items comfortably without the help of bags, backpacks, horses, carts, etc.

Each PC starts with a Backpack that can hold up to six slots of items or Fatigue. Carts (which must be pulled with both hands), horses, or mules can make a huge difference in how much a PC can bring with them on an adventure. Hirelings can also be paid to carry equipment.

Inventory is abstract, dependent only on the fiction as adjudicated by the Warden.

Anyone carrying a full inventory (i.e. filling all 10 slots) is reduced to 0 HP. A character cannot fill more than ten slots.

Inventory Slots

- Most items take up one slot unless otherwise indicated.
- Petty items do not take up any slots. Bulky items take up two slots.
- A bag of coins worth less than 100gp is petty and does not occupy a slot.

Deprivation & Fatigue

A PC that lacks a crucial need (such as food or rest) is Deprived. Anyone Deprived for more than a day adds Fatigue to their inventory, one for each day. A Deprived PC cannot recover HP, Attributes, or item slots from Fatigue.

A PC may also be forced to add Fatigue after casting spells or due to events occurring in the fiction. Each Fatigue occupies one slot and lasts until the PC is able to recuperate (such as with a full night's rest in a safe spot).

If a character is forced to add Fatigue to their inventory but they have no free slots, they must drop an item from their inventory.

SAVES & RISK

Saves

A save is a roll to avoid negative outcomes from risky choices. Characters roll a d20 and compare the results to the appropriate attribute. If they roll equal to or under that attribute, they succeed. Otherwise, they fail. A 1 is always a success, and a 20 is always a failure.

If two opponents are each trying to overcome the other, whoever is most at risk should save.

If two characters need to take an action together, whoever is most at risk should make the save.

Advantage & Disadvantage

A Warden has the option of modifying the difficulty of saves using Advantage (where a character rolls two d20 and uses the higher roll) or Disadvantage (where a character rolls two d20 and uses the lower roll).

Die of Fate

Optionally, roll 1d6 whenever the outcome of an event is uncertain or to simulate an element of randomness and chance, roll 1d6.

To create a hireling, choose an appropriate role from the Hirelings table in the Marketplace. Roll 3d6 for each attribute and 1d6 for their HP. Give them equipment appropriate to their station, then roll on the Character Traits tables to further flesh them out.

Alternatively, follow the Character Creation process but select the appropriate background, name, and gear for the character.

Reactions

When the PCs encounter an NPC whose reaction to the party is not obvious, the Warden may roll 2d6 and consult the following table:

Reactions

- 2: Hostile
- 3-5: Wary
- 6-8: Curious
- 9-11: Kind
- 12: Helpful

MAGIC

Spellbooks

Spellbooks contain a single spell and take up one slot. They cannot be easily transcribed or created; instead they are recovered from places like tombs, dungeons, and manors.

Spellbooks sometimes display unusual properties or limitations, such as producing a foul or unearthly smell when opened, possessing an innate intelligence, or being legible only when held in moonlight.

Spellbooks will attract the attention of those who seek the arcane power within, and it is considered dangerous to display them openly.

Casting Spells

Anyone can cast a spell by holding a Spellbook in both hands and reading its contents aloud. They must then add a Fatigue to inventory.

Given time and safety, PCs can enhance a spell's impact (e.g., affecting multiple targets, increasing its power, etc.) without any additional cost.

If the PC is deprived or in danger (such as during combat), the Warden may require a PC to make a WIL save to avoid any ill-effects from casting the spell.

Consequences of failure are on par with the intended effect and may result in added Fatigue, the destruction of the Spellbook, injury, and even death.

Scrolls

Scrolls are similar to Spellbooks, however:

- They are petty.
- They do not cause Fatigue.
- They disappear after one use.

Relics

Relics are items imbued with a magical spell or power. They do not cause Fatigue. Relics usually have limited use, as well as a Recharge condition. A few examples:

Honeyclasp, 3 charges. A rusted ring that shrinks the bearer to 6" tall. Recharge: place in a thimble-sized cup of royal jelly.

Falconer's Friend, 1 charge. A bolt-shaped wand carrying the Haste spell. Recharge: fire from a crossbow and recover.

Staff of Silence, 1 charge. This blackened rod temporarily disables all magic within 50ft. Recharge: bathe in the light of a full moon.

Leycap, 1 use. Anyone ingesting this green-flecked mushroom loses a Fatigue, but is then required to make a WIL save to avoid its addictive properties. A fail leaves the PC deprived and unable to focus until they can eat another leycap, providing only a brief reprieve from the addiction.

Infinite Satchel A bag known for holding things without regard to size, or weight, as long as it can fit through the opening of the satchel. No matter what the Satchel is holding, it's weight never increases. However, items can not be retrieved from unless the Satchel has not been moved for 8 hours.

COMBAT

Rounds

A Round is roughly ten seconds of in-game time and proceeds with each side taking turns. Each round starts with any PC that is able to act, followed by their opponents. The result of each side's actions occur simultaneously.

During the first round of combat, each PC must make a DEX save in order to act. Special circumstances, abilities, items, or skills may negate this requirement. PCs that fail their save lose their turn for this round.

Their opponents then take their turn, and the first round ends. The next round begins with the PCs taking their turn, followed by their opponents, and so on until combat has ended with one side defeated or fled.

Actions

On their turn, a character may move up to 40ft and take up to one action. This may be casting a spell, attacking, moving for a second time, or some other reasonable action. Each round, the PCs declare what they are doing before dice are rolled. If a character attempts something risky, the Warden calls for a save for appropriate players or NPCs.

Attacking & Damage

The attacker rolls their weapon die and subtracts the target's armor, then deals the remaining total to their opponent's HP. Attacks in combat automatically hit.

If an attack would take a PC's HP exactly to 0, refer to the Scars table to see how they are uniquely impacted.

Attack Modifiers

If fighting from a position of weakness (such as through cover or with bound hands), the attack is Impaired, and the attacker must roll 1d4 damage regardless of the attack's damage die. Unarmed attacks always do d4 damage.

If fighting from a position of advantage (such as against a helpless foe or through a daring maneuver), the attack is Enhanced, allowing the attacker to roll 1d12 damage instead of their normal die.

Attacks with the Blast quality affect all targets in the noted area, rolling separately for each affected character. This can be anything from explosions to a dragon's breath or the impact of a meteorite. If unsure how many targets can be affected, roll the related damage die for a result.

If attacking with two weapons at the same time, roll both damage dice and keep the single highest result (denoted with a plus symbol, e.g. d8+d8).

312. Symbol of Pain: Reading the rune causes pain. WIL Save or be unable to do anything but scream until Save is passed.

313. Baleful Polymorph: WIL Save or Transforms subject into harmless animal.

314. Fabricate: Transforms raw materials into finished items.

315. Passwall: Creates passage through wood or stone wall.

316. Telekinesis: Moves object, attacks creature, or hurls object or creature.

317. Transmute Earth: Transforms mud to rock or rock to mud.

318. Petrify: WIL Save or target is transformed into a statue. This effect lasts as long as the Caster wishes.

319. Control Water: Raise, lower or part water.

320. Planar Gate: Open a gate to another reality that works in both directions.

BESTIARY

Elite Enemies & Challenge Rating

To create a more powerful version of an enemy, give them more HP and allow them to take multiple actions, effectively treating the one enemy as though it were several.

Bestiary Proper

Note: If STR, DEX, or WIL are not listed, then they have a value of 10.

Critical Damage

Damage that reduces a target's HP below zero is subtracted from their STR by the amount of damage remaining. The target must then immediately make a STR save to avoid taking Critical Damage, using their new STR score. On a success, the target is still in the fight (albeit with a lower STR score) and must continue to make critical damage saves when incurring damage.

Any PC that suffers Critical Damage cannot do anything but crawl weakly, grasping for life. If given aid (such as bandages), they will stabilize. If left untreated, they die within the hour. NPCs and monsters that fail a Critical Damage save are considered dead, per the Warden's discretion. Additionally, some enemies will have special abilities or effects that are triggered when their target fails a critical damage save.

Scars

If damage to a PC would reduce their HP to exactly 0, look up the result on the table below based on the amount of HP lost in the attack. For example, if a PC went from 3 HP to 0 HP, they would look at entry 3 (Walloped).

HP Lost. Result

1. Lasting Scar: Roll 1d6. 1: Neck, 2: Hands, 3: Eye, 4: Chest, 5: Legs, 6: Ear. Roll 1d6. If the total is higher than your max HP, take the new result.

LEVELING UP

Characters level up after playing as many adventures at their current level. Ultimately though, the Warden decides when players level up.

For example, a character who just turned level 3 will turn level 4 after 3 adventures.

When players level up, they can select two additional Class Feats, which can be from any class.

Character Death

When a character dies, the player should create a new character or take control of a hireling. They immediately join the party in order to reduce downtime.

Detachments

Large groups of similar combatants fighting together are treated as a single Detachment. When a detachment takes Critical Damage, it is routed or significantly weakened. When it reaches 0 STR, it is destroyed.
