MINI CAIRN

Cairn is licensed under CC-BY-SA 4.0 by Yochai Gal. (github.com/yochaigal/cairn)

Cairn is an adventure game for one facilitator (the Warden) and at least one other player inspired by the likes of Chris McDowall's Into the Odd and Ben Milton's Knave.

Players act as hardened adventurers exploring a dark & mysterious Wood filled with strange folk, hidden treasure, and unspeakable monstrosities.

Character Creation

First, choose a name for your character, then choose or roll their background, which informs their knowledge and potential skills. Lastly, roll for the rest of your character's traits and gear on the Character Traits and Starting Gear tables.

Ability Scores

Player Characters (PCs) have just three attributes:

Strength (STR), Dexterity (DEX), and Willpower (WIL). When creating a PC, the player should roll 3d6 for each of their character's ability scores, in order. They may then swap any two of the results.

Hit Protection

Roll 1d6 to determine your PC's starting Hit Protection (HP), which reflects their ability to avoid damage in combat. HP does not indicate a character's health or fortitude; nor do they lose it for very long (see Healing). If an attack takes a PC's HP exactly to 0, the player must roll on the Scars table.

Inventory

Characters have a total of 10 inventory slots: a backpack with six slots, one slot for each hand, and two slots for their upper body (such as the belt, chest, or head). The backpack can also double as an emergency sleeping bag but only if emptied of its contents.

Most items take up one slot, and small items can be bundled together. Slots are abstract and can be rearranged per the Warden's discretion.

Bulky items take up two slots and are typically two-handed or awkward to carry. Anyone carrying a full inventory (e.g. filling all 10 slots) is reduced to 0 HP.

A PC cannot carry more items than their inventory allows. Carts (which must be pulled with both hands), horses, or mules can increase inventory. Hirelings can also be paid to carry equipment.

Starting Gear

All PCs begin with:or

- Three days' rations (one slot)
- A torch (one slot)
- 3d6 gold pieces

Roll on the Starting Gear tables to determine your PC's armor, weapons, tools, and equipment. If indicated, roll on the Spell-books table with a d100 (or roll 2d10, using one die as the ones place, and one as the tens place).

See the Equipment List for related armor, damage, and slot values. Smaller items can sometimes be bundled together into one slot.

Thief

You are the Rogue, the Assassin, the Ranger, the Tomb Robber. You are the master of stealth, acrobatics and deception.

- Rogue: The larcenous arts are your way of living, you have contacts with the mob in most cities, You always hear the best rumors and nice job proposals. You get cheap equipment from selected shops. Nevertheless, Your reputation will not help you with the authorities and you probably "wanted" somewhere. You know how to cut a purse and you have learned the mysteries of lock-picking. As accomplished burglars you can attempt to climb unthinkable sheer surfaces.
- Assassin: You have learned many ways of killing, you are a deadly shadow. You still owe your mentors, probably a guild, and beware of the day they will hold you accountable. With the right ingredients you can brew all kinds of poison. With some observations and study you can create disguises that will fool detailed scrutiny.

- Ranger: You are a protector of nature, you are a wilderness survival expert and you know how to travel fast and unnoticed. Always aware, you are rarely surprised. You have a semi intelligent faithful pet of your choice. You have a deep connection with him/her and you will always protect each other. Your pet will always find you back but if it dies you will need to raise a cub.
- Tomb Robber: You are stealing things from the dead, they don't need it after all. \You are a specialist of underground exploration and ancient structures. You feel at home in dark and damp places. You have developed skills for disabling traps, only the most advanced one should catch you. You can smell Undead creatures when they are close.

Character creation

- Backstab: when you attack an unaware opponent from behind you do STR damage.
- Read languages: you can read approximately any text.

Starting Gear

- You start with an Expeditionary Gear and a Tool of your choice.
- Choose a Weapon.
- Roll the rest as usual.

17. Scrying Ward: For 24 hours you become aware of any magical eavesdropping.
18. Song of Repose: Target falls into a deep slumber.
19. Uncurse: A person or object you touch is freed from a curse or nefarious spell.
20. Word of Pain: A single phrase from your lips does 1d12 blast damage. Affected targets are also deafened.

Magic-User

You are the Wizard, the Necromancer, the Elementalist, the Enchanter. You are the scholar of the arcane, you handle spells and magic like no one else.

- Wizard: You have spent time in magic school and libraries, Your knowledge is broad and you often now something about old and forgotten things. You have a small magic creature as Familiar. You can communicate with it telepathically as long as you can see it. If it dies it can be re-summoned during an 8 hours ritual, you end up Deprived.
- Necromancer: You manipulate the forces of life and death and have a sick attraction for undead creatures. You will be despised, banished or imprisoned in most settlements. You can speak with recently deceased corpses, they will talk to you like a friend. Get 1 Fatigue at the end of the conversation.

- Elementalist: You summon the forces of the four elements: Water, Earth, Fire and Air. You choose one element: You always have 3 Armor against it and your attack spells based on it are enhanced.
- Enchanter: You have sharpened your magic ability to seduce and charm mundane creatures with your words. You can hypnotize an intelligent creature by holding a trinket and speaking directly to him/her. The creature is dazed and confused until a WIL Save is passed.

Character creation

- Grimoire (Bulky). This is the fruit of your research and your most precious belongings (only you can decipher it). You can spend four hours to copy a standard Spellbook into your Grimoire followed by a successful WIL Save. During this process the original Spellbook is destroyed. Scrolls cannot be copied.
- You are not comfortable wearing bulky armor. Spell casting wearing one will cost 2 Fatigue.

Starting Gear

- You start with your Grimoire with a random spell inscribed.
- Roll 1d6 on the Armor Table.
- Don't roll on the Helmets and Shields Table.
- Roll the rest as usual.

You dedicate your life to the cult and sworn vow of humility (you should not hoard treasures). Once per day you can Lay on Hands on someone to cure disease, poison or heal 1d6 STR.

Character creation

- Salvation Grace: heal 1D6 to any abilities but you became Deprived.
- Miracles: you can choose 3 spells related to your religion to cast without Spellbooks while holding your holy symbol.

Starting Gear

- You start with a holy symbol from your deity.
- Roll 1d12+8 on the Armor Table.
- Roll 1d12+8 on the Helmets and Shields Table.
- Roll the rest as usual.

d20 Cleric Spells

1. Blessing: Target’s attacks are enhanced and non-Blast attacks are impaired against them until they next take damage.
2. Cure-All: A single illness or disease dissipates at your touch.
3. Curse Unlife: Deals 1d4+2 STR loss to one undead, ignoring armor and resistances.
4. Fortify: Damage from heat, ice, acid or electricity are impaired against a target for the next hour.

5. Healing Grace: A target heals 1d6 STR, and you become deprived until you take the time to mediate, pray or sleep.
6. Induce Despair: Target must pass a WIL save or its attacks are impaired.
7. Lichsense: You feel any undead within 60ft. WIL save to avoid detection by intelligent undead.
8. Light Show: You control a dazzling display of light and color.
9. Linguist: For the next hour you can speak and understand any mundane language.
10. Magic Seal: Magically locks a door, portal or chest.
11. Master Undead: Undead creatures obey your command. Intelligent undead make a WIL save.
12. Otherworldly Gate: Opens a portal to another reality. It works in both directions.
13. Passage: Creates a temporary path through wood, stone or brick.
14. Perfect Preservation: A weapon you touch becomes immune to wear, mundane damage or elemental effects. The spell wears off after a day.
15. Planar Anchor: Binds an extraplanar creature to your will until it performs a task specific task, after which they must pass a WIL save to escape (good luck).
16. Ravenless Message: You send a short message 1 mile that anyone along its path can hear.

CLASSIC CLASSES

Classic Classes is by Danger is Real and licensed under CC-BY-SA 4.0 (dangerisreal.itch.io/classic-classes-for-cairn)

Fighter

You are the Mercenary, the Barbarian, the Gladiator, The Knight. You are the master of the arts of combat and warfare

- Mercenary: You have a contact you can turn to in almost every city. They aren't always happy to see you, though. Men blindly follow you in battle (they always pass morale saves).
- Barbarian: Your place is in the wilderness, you despise civilization and fear magic. You drink blood like ale, regain 1d3 HP when you kill or CD an enemy. Your battle rage is so strong that you can harm creatures immune to mundane damage.
- Gladiator: Your favorite weapon is an extension of you (your attacks are enhanced). You are a trained merciless killer. Your reputation is not always serving you and your former master is probably looking for you.
- Knight: Your rank gives you credibility with the nobles. The peasantry will generally follow you into dangerous situations without any the slightest hesitation. However if you fail them somehow, they may strip you of your rank. You are also a skilled horseman, your mounted attacks are enhanced.

Character creation

- Start with 1d4+2 HP.
- Swirl: do a Blast attack and gain 1 Fatigue.
- Death Storm: when you kill or CD an enemy you can attack again.

Starting Gear

- Roll 1d10+10 on the Armor Table.
- Roll 1d10+10 on the Helmets and Shields Table.
- Roll for Weapons and choose a second one.
- Roll the rest as usual.

Cleric

You are the Priest, the Druid, the Paladin. You are a faithful servant of your deity. Battle ready to channel the power of your cult.

- Priest: You always find help and resources in the temple of your deity but stay in line with the dogma of your religion or be disfavored. You can invoke the divine power, brandishing your holy symbol, to repel undead (creatures Save WIL to resist).
- Druid: You belong to the wild lands and feel uncomfortable in cities. You worship the elements and the old bestial deities. You can communicate with animals and always find resources in the wilderness. You can shape-shift into your totem animal (get 1 Fatigue when you shift back).

- Bloodhound: 2 HP, 12 DEX, bite (d6)
- Thundering Horn

Rules

Each of the three abilities are used in different circumstances (see saves, below).

Strength (STR): Used for saves requiring physical power, like lifting gates, bending bars, resisting poison, etc.

Dexterity (DEX): Used for saves requiring poise, speed, and reflexes like dodging, climbing, sneaking, balancing, etc.

Willpower (WIL): Used for saves to persuade, deceive, interrogate, intimidate, charm, provoke, manipulate spells, etc.

Saves

A save is a roll to avoid bad outcomes from risky choices and circumstances. PCs roll a d20 for an appropriate ability score. If they roll equal to or under that ability score, they pass. Otherwise, they fail. A 1 is always a success, and a 20 is always a failure.

Example: Bea encounters a group of heavily-armed Goblins standing guard before a tunnel entrance. Her player carefully plots a course, recognizing that her 13 DEX makes sneaking past the guards the best option. She rolls a d20, and resulting in a 10 – a success!

Deprivation & Fatigue

A PC deprived of a crucial need (such as food or rest) is unable to recover HP or ability scores. Anyone deprived for more than a day adds Fatigue to their inventory, one for each day. Each Fatigue occupies one slot and lasts until they are able to recuperate (such as a full night's rest in a safe spot). PCs can also gain Fatigue by casting spells or through events in the fiction.

Some pointers:

- Is it good at avoiding a hit? Give it HP.
- Does it soak up damage? Give it Armor.
- Is it strong? Give it a high STR.
- Is it nimble? Give it high DEX.
- Is it charismatic? Give it high WIL.

Damage die are roughly the same, though armed attacks do at least 1d6 damage.

OPTIONAL RULES

ADVANTAGE & DISADVANTAGE

A Warden has the option of modifying the difficulty of saves using Advantage (where a character rolls two d20 and uses the higher roll) or Disadvantage (where a character rolls two d20 and uses the lower roll).

MAGIC ATTACKS

1. Acid Splash: Hurl a bubble of acid for d8 damage which can be split between 2 adjacent targets.
2. Fire Bolt: 1d10 damage. Can light things on fire.
3. Poison Spray: d12 poison damage if the nearby target fails a STR save.
4. Ray of Frost: Deals d8 cold damage and target has disadvantage on DEX saves.
5. Shocking Grasp: Deliver a d10 electric shock to a creature you touch.

ANCESTRIES

Dwellers of the Underground

- Darkvision: Perfect vision in low-light, somewhat blinded by bright lights.
- Earthhardy: You are tougher than sun-dwellers, often recovering from injuries or poison thought to be lethal.

Fair Folk

- Magic-Sense: You can tell when arcane energies are at work.
- Third Eye: You cannot be fooled by magical illusions, save those created by one of your own.

Smallfolk

- Easily Missed: Enemies tend to ignore you, going for the bigger targets first or ignoring you altogether.
- Quicksilver: Escaping sudden capture or a killing blow is like second nature to you. Sneaking comes naturally, too.

Greenskin

- Blood Brothers: If any fellow adventurers go first in battle, then you also go first.
- Battle Fury: Once per encounter you may perform an Enhanced blast attack.

Humankind

- Eclectic: Humans are many and varied. Select an additional background.
- Aggressive Opportunist: Once per encounter, you can re-roll a damage roll.

Wolf: 6 HP, 12 STR, 14 DEX, bite (d8). Large canines that dwell primarily in wildlands, but occasionally lair in caves. Can be trained like dogs if captured young. When found in packs of at least 4, wolves never fail morale saves.

Wolf, Dire: 8 HP, 14 STR, 12 DEX, bite (d10). Horse-sized, semi-intelligent wolves. Highly territorial, live in forests or mountains and ferociously guard its surroundings. Can be trained like dogs if captured young, but it's a extremely difficult challenging.

Wood Troll: 12 HP, 15 STR, 12 DEX, 7 WIL, claws and bite (d8+d8 blast). As an action, can recover lost HP. Critical damage: moss and twigs begin growing out of target's wounds.

Wyvern: 7 HP, 14 DEX, bite (d8+d8) or poisonous sting (d6). Winged, two-legged, reptilian monsters with a long tail tipped with a venomous sting. Dwell in any terrain, but favor dry cliffs. Shy away from other creatures, but attacks anything that comes in the vicinity of its nest. Critical Damage: The deadly poison permanently debilitates the target, reducing its maximum STR to the current value.

Zombie: 6 HP, 6 DEX, 3 WIL, rusted weapon (d6). Slow, mindless re-animated corpses. Created by wicked wizards to serve as guardians in hordes. Simply attacks anything that comes nearby. Cannot be affected by anything that targets the mind.

Creating Monsters

Use the following template to model any more sophisticated Monster or NPC:

Name:

X HP, X Armor, X STR, X DEX, X WIL, Weapon (dX, special items, qualities)

- Engaging descriptor of appearance or demeanor
- Quirk, tactic, or peculiarity making this NPC unique
- Special effect or critical damage consequence

General Principles

Ability Scores: 3 is deficient, 6 is weak, 10 is average, 14 is noteworthy, and 18 is legendary. Adjust as necessary.

- Give average creatures 3 HP, give hardy ones 6 HP, and serious threats get 10+ HP.
- Use flavor and style to help them stand out. Players will remember a pig-faced humanoid looking for his missing sheep more easily than a generic goblin archer.
- Use critical damage to lean into the threat or strangeness of any aggressive NPC.
- Remember that HP is Hit Protection, not Hit Points. It's a measure of resilience, luck, and gumption - not health.

Converting from OSR Games

- Give 1 HP per HD for most creatures.
- Most humanoids have at least 4HP.
- Morale can be used as a baseline.

Healing

Resting for a few moments and having a drink of water restores lost HP but leaves the party exposed. Ability loss can usually be restored with a week's rest facilitated by a healer or other appropriate source of expertise. Some of these services may be free, while more expedient or magical means of recovery may come at a cost.

Armor

Before calculating damage to HP, subtract the target's Armor value from the result of damage rolls. Shields and similar armor provides a bonus defense (e.g. +1 Armor), but only while the item is held or worn.

No one can have more than 3 Armor.

Shields, gauntlets, and helms may provide additional benefits according to their use.

Reactions

When the PCs encounter an NPC whose reaction to the party is not obvious, the Warden may roll 2d6 and consult the following table:

- 2: Hostile
- 3-5: Wry
- 6-8: Curious
- 9-11: Kind
- 12: Helpful

Morale

Enemies must pass a WIL save to avoid fleeing when they take their first casualty and again when they lose half their number. Some groups may use their leader's WIL in place of their own. Lone foes must save when they're reduced to 0 HP. Morale does not affect PCs.

Hirelings

PCs can hire hirelings to aid them in their expeditions. To create a hireling, roll 3d6 for each ability score, then give them 1d6 HP and a simple weapon (d6), then roll on the Character Creation tables to further flesh them out. Hirelings cost between 1-3gp per day, or a share of whatever treasure the party obtains.

Wealth & Treasure

The most common coin is the gold piece (gp), which is equal to 10 silver pieces (sp) and 100 copper pieces (cp).

Treasure is highly valuable, usually bulky, and rarely useful beyond its value. It can be a lure, taking PCs to exotic and even dangerous locations, and is often under the protection of intimidating foes.

Villages, strongholds, and ports of call barter and trade based on the local rarity and value of an item or commodity.

Magic

Spellbooks contain a single spell and take up one slot. They cannot be transcribed or created; instead they are recovered from places like tombs, dungeons, and manors.

Spellbooks sometimes display unusual properties or limitations, such as producing a foul or unearthly smell when opened, possessing an innate intelligence, or being legible only when held in moonlight.

Spellbooks will attract the attention of those who seek the arcane power within, and it is considered dangerous to display them openly.

Scrolls are similar to Spellbooks, however:

- They do not take up an inventory slot.
- They do not cause fatigue.
- They disappear after one use.

Casting Spells

Anyone can cast a spell by holding a Spellbook in both hands and reading its contents aloud. They must then add a Fatigue to inventory, occupying one slot. Given time and safety, PCs can enhance a spell (e.g., affecting multiple targets, increasing its power, etc.) without any additional cost.

If the PC is deprived or in danger, the Warden may require a PC to make a MIL save to avoid any ill-effects from casting the spell. Consequences of failure are on par with the intended effect, and may result in added Fatigue, the destruction of the Spellbook, injury, and even death.

Relics

Relics are items imbued with a magical spell or power. They do not cause Fatigue. Relics usually have a limited use, as well as a recharge condition. A few examples:

Honeyclasp, 3 charges. A rusted ring that shrinks the bearer to 6" tall. Recharge: place in a thimble-sized cup of royal jelly.

Falconer's Friend, 1 charge. A bolt-shaped wand carrying the Haste spell. Recharge: fire from a crossbow and recover.

Staff of Silence, 1 charge. This blackened rod temporarily disables all magic within 50ft. Recharge: bathe in the light of a full moon.

Leycap, 1 use. Anyone ingesting this green-flecked mushroom loses a Fatigue, but is then required to make a WIL save to avoid its addictive properties. A fail leaves the PC deprived and unable to focus until they can eat another leycap, providing only a brief reprieve from the addiction.

Giant, Frost: 14 HP, 2 Armor, 18 STR, 12 WIL, greataxe (d12+d10) or longbow (d12). 18' tall humanoids with blue-ish skin and pale hair. Wear furs and iron Armor. Unharmed by cold and ice. Excellent trackers, hunt accompanied by dire wolves.

Goblin: 4 HP, 8 STR, 12 DEX, 8 WIL, dagger (d6) or sling (d4). Small, grotesque humanoids with skin in earthy tones of green, brown, and grey. Avoid combat, only attacking when in advantage, using hit-and-run tactics. Sometimes are found using dire wolves as mounts.

Hawk, Giant: 10 HP, 8 STR, 15 DEX, 8 WIL, talons and beak (d8+d6). Large birds of prey, the size of a wolf. Can carry animals up to their size. Hunt animals that they can carry, but might attack humans or greater prey if despaired. Surprise their victims by diving to attack from a great height. Can supposedly be trained to be hunting companions.

Gelatinous Cube: 8 HP, 15 STR, 6 DEX, 3 WIL, devouring touch (d8). Large cubes of transparent jelly, dwell in dungeons absorbing items and living creatures. Difficult to be detected due to being transparent. Critical Damage: The target is engulfed into the cube and keeps being absorbed.

Ghost: 8 HP, 15 WIL, cold touch (d4). Incorporeal spirits of the restless dead. Avoids direct confrontation, instead it quietly possesses a target and acts through them when possible. Immune to most forms of damage, only susceptible to magic and holy water. Possession: One target must save WIL or be possessed, being controlled by the ghost until it's somehow driven off.

Ghoul: 6 HP, 14 STR, 3 WIL, elongated claws jagged teeth (d8+d6). Grey-skinned man-things wearing shredded clothes, hunkering over the ground. Craves the flesh of the living, as it grows only more powerful with each victim. Critical Damage: target is paralyzed. The wound turns fatal in a day if not treated by a priest or skilled healer. If not burned, the body will rise as a Ghoul.

Combat

Rounds

The game typically plays without strict time accounting. In a fight or circumstance where timing is helpful, use rounds to keep track of when something occurs. A round is roughly ten seconds of in-game time and is comprised of turns.

Actions

On their turn, a character may move up to 40ft and take up to one action. This may be casting a spell, attacking, making a second move, or some other reasonable action.

Each round, the PCs declare what they are doing before dice are rolled. If a character attempts something risky, the Warden calls for a save for appropriate players or NPCs.

Turns

The Warden will telegraph the most likely actions taken by NPCs or monsters. At the start of combat, each PC must make a DEX save to act before their opponents.

Example: Bea has accidentally stumbled onto the stomping grounds of a massive Wood Troll. In order to make a move before the Troll, she makes a DEX save. She fails, and the Troll gets to attack first.

Attacking & Damage

The attacker rolls their weapon die and subtracts the target's armor, then deals the remaining total to their opponent's HP. Unarmed attacks always do 1d4 damage.

Example: The Wood Troll roars, swinging its club at Bea, who has 5 HP. The club does 1d10 damage and the Warden rolls a 4. They subtract 1 to account for Bea's leather armor, leaving Bea with 2 HP remaining.

Attack Modifiers

If fighting from a position of weakness (such as through cover or with bound hands), the attack is impaired and the attacker must roll 1d4 damage regardless of the attacks damage die.

If fighting from a position of advantage (such as against a helpless foe or through a daring maneuver), the attack is enhanced, allowing the attacker to roll 1d12 damage instead of their normal die.

Multiple Attackers

If multiple attackers target the same foe, roll all damage dice and keep the single highest result.

Optionally, you can allow subsequent attacks on a target in a round, but they are impaired.

Dual Weapons

If attacking with two weapons at the same time, roll both damage dice and keep the single highest result.

Blast

Attacks with the blast quality affect all targets in the noted area, rolling separately for each affected character. Blast refers to anything from explosions to huge cleaving onslaughts to the impact of a meteorite. If unsure how many targets can be affected, roll the related damage die for a result.

Scars

When damage to a PC reduces their HP to exactly 0, they are sometimes changed irrevocably. See the Scars for more.

Critical Damage

Damage that reduces a target's HP below zero decreases a target's STR by the amount remaining. They must then make a STR save to avoid critical damage. Additionally, some enemies will have special abilities or effects that are triggered when their target fails a critical damage save.

Any PC that suffers critical damage cannot do anything but crawl weakly, grasping for life. If given aid and rest, they will stabilize. If left untreated, they die within the hour.

Ability Score Loss

If a PC's STR is reduced to 0, they die. If their DEX is reduced to 0, they are paralyzed. If their WIL is reduced to 0, they are delirious.

Complete DEX and WIL loss renders the character unable to act until they are restored through extended rest or by extraordinary means.

Unconsciousness & Death

When a character dies, the player is free to create a new character or take control of a hireling. They immediately join the party in order to reduce downtime.

Detachments

Large groups of similar combatants fighting together are treated as a single detachment. When a detachment takes critical damage, it is routed or significantly weakened. When it reaches 0 STR, it is destroyed.

Attacks against detachments by individuals are impaired (excluding blast damage).

Attacks against individuals by detachments are enhanced and deal blast damage.

Retreat

Running away from a dire situation always requires a successful DEX save, as well as a safe destination to run to.
